Document Delivery

These are statistics for various kinds of on-grounds delivery. Darden's figures are included with the University Library's statistics. Law and Health Sciences both have delivery services for their local users. Ivy Stacks deliveries for Law and Health Sciences are done by the University Library. Some of the types of deliveries are overlapping, e.g., Ivy Stacks deliveries can also be LEO deliveries. Ivy deliveries do not match Ivy circulation numbers because many items are scanned rather than charged to users. The Ivy facility was closed for renovations and deliveries were suspended from September 2010 until July 2012. There is a sharp increase in Ivy deliveries in FY13 partly because the new inventory system counts each item individually, rather than counting several volumes of the same periodical as one item. Also, many more items are being moved into Ivy Stacks now that the capacity is doubled, and all of these items are now reflected in Virgo.

Electronic Resources

E-journals and multi-media are subsets of databases; i.e., the databases are comprised of many e-journals, etc. Data encompasses all of the University Libraries.

Circulation numbers decreased about 6% from FY15, but continue to be an activity of considerable volume. Most of these checkouts are printed materials (e.g., books, theses, musical scores), but they also include audio, videos, maps, and other non-print materials. (The numbers include both regular and reserve checkouts, but not renewals.) There was a substantial increase in circulation for equipment.

Reference questions decreased about 35% from FY15. Some of this decrease may be due to changes in recording of the activity.

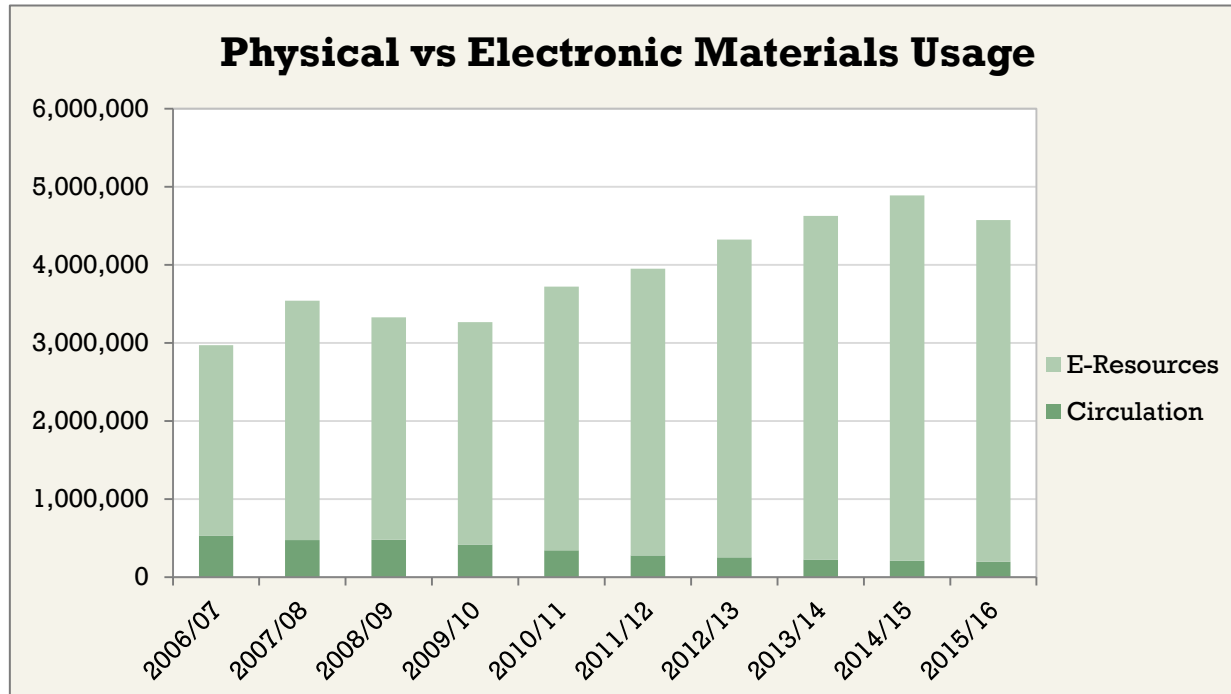

Electronic journal article usage remains high. In FY16, approximately 2.7 million e-journal articles were downloaded. All the tallied electronic journals are purchased by the Library or the VIVA consortium.

Use of e-books took off in FY11 and remains high. There was a slight decrease in use of e-books for FY16. High usage reflects a growth in our e-book collections as well as increased interest in the format by our users.

¹ Reserve circulations probably mean that Alderman terminals were used to charge reserve materials from other libraries.

² These libraries have open reserves where most reserve items are not charged out.

Historical Regular and Reserve Circulation by Library

Chart includes initial regular and reserve circulation; it does not include internal library circulation. Most of the Education Library collection was transferred to Alderman during FY10 and the juvenile collection to Clemons in FY13; Education Services retains reference materials. The large increase for Ivy Stacks in FY13 is likely due to the reopening of the facility in July 2012. The Bio/Psych Library closed in May 2013.

Historical Circulation by Item Type

Circulation of print has declined over the past ten years. Print circulation is driven by books; non-print circulation had typically been driven by videos but is now heavily influenced by equipment. Below is a breakdown of some of the major categories for each type.

¹ The loan period for sound recordings was extended in FY11 from one week to one month. This causes a decrease in the number of charges.

² The loan period for videos was extended in FY11 from 3 days to 7 days with online user renewal, which causes a decrease in the number of charges.

³ Does not include computer media, maps, graphics, or permanent reserve (photocopies).

Reserve Circulation by Library

Reserve includes only initial and renewal reserve circulation for items held at a reserve desk. In many cases, where there is a big change in reserve circulation there is also a big change in the number of items on reserve.

¹ Reserve circulations probably mean that Ald terminals were used to charge reserve materials from other libraries.

² These libraries have open reserves where most reserve items are not charged out.

Items on Reserve by Library

This represents the greatest number of print items on reserve during the year in each library. The numbers are derived from a snapshot taken of reserve items on the 15th of each month.
